ABOUT - LEARN TO LEAD

Learn to Lead, A uniquely crafted Training program, was born with an intent to create future leaders who are adept at managing operational and strategic positions, with a vision of futuristic growth.

The program will also cover certain skill gaps prevalent in the industry. The program's curriculum is primarily delivered online; however, in-person sessions will be arranged based on the availability of TOP industry experts, as needed.

With a strong emphasis on operational Risk Management, knowledge transfer for Compliances, Implementation of standards, and the opportunity to learn best practices from Industry leaders, this programme is ideal for Working professionals from the Risk Management & Security domain (Security executives, managers, supervisors, systems integrators, security engineers, security management consultants).

We aim to have shaped minds, that are not only adept at problem-solving but are armed with the zeal to 'Make a Difference' by acting as risk and security industry leaders.

At the end, the convocation will be held at University after final project submission.

Some of the key objectives of the program will be:

- Create operational leaders through skill augmentation while working
- To bridge & skill enhancement in the industry operations
- Convergence of multiple training methodologies into one effective program
- Attendees are made eligible for higher positions and salary structures
- Use of flexi-learning timelines

CREATING BETTER FUTURE

Learn to Lead is established with the objective of developing courses to produce leaders capable of handling strategic and operational roles in the service of long-term expansion. The training will also fill in some of the industry's most common skill sets.

We have a SMART Vision and a big goal to create plenty of opportunities and better future for working professionals in Risk management and security domain. We are committed to providing the best possible resources and support to help make this happen across the globe.

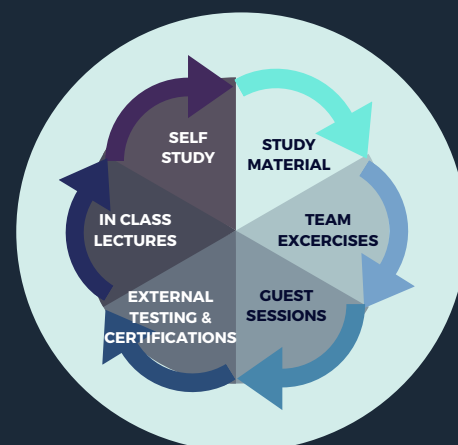

The S.M.A.R.T. framework will serve as the foundation for the Lead to Learn initiative:

SPECIFIC	MEASURABLE	ACHIEVABLE	RELEVANT	TIME BASED
Addresses specific skill- set based goals Milestone specific goals setting	Helps understand how to set up measurable metrics for assessment of goals	To inspire achievable milestones by empowerment	To help develop skill sets that are relevant for the industry, company and personal growth perspectives	To ensure upskilling through realistic timelines based goal posts

IMPORTANT GUIDELINES

The course will be lead as a mix of in person and offline trainings. The students will be mandatorily needed to attend a 4 hours in person interaction every week. The curriculum will be delivered through detailed course material, in person training / lecture notes and backed by simulation training of concepts and theories. The participants would be encouraged to also imbibe self and group learning methodologies, that will then be tested in the various test / exercise formats. All course materials (including pre reads) will be provided to the participants.
